Dynamic and Participatory Worship

African American worship, as outlined by Costen, is often highly participatory. Congregants engage actively through singing, clapping, shouting, and responsive readings. This dynamic interaction fosters a sense of belonging and spiritual vitality that contrasts with more passive worship forms found in other Christian traditions.

Costen emphasizes that this participatory nature is not incidental but integral to the theological understanding of worship as a communal encounter with the divine. The interaction between the preacher, choir, and congregation creates a dialogical space where faith is experienced collectively.

Theological Themes in Worship

Melva W. Costen identifies key theological themes prevalent in African American Christian worship, including liberation, deliverance, and redemption. These themes resonate deeply with the historical experiences of African Americans and shape the worship narrative.

The emphasis on deliverance, for example, is reflected in hymns and sermons that highlight God's intervention in human suffering. This theological focus reinforces a hopeful worldview and sustains congregants through contemporary challenges.
