The Birth of a Hymn: Origins of "It Is Well With My Soul"

The story behind "It Is Well With My Soul" begins in the 19th century with Horatio Spafford, a successful Chicago lawyer and devout Christian. The song's lyrics were penned in the aftermath of a series of personal tragedies that tested his faith to its limits. In 1871, the Great Chicago Fire destroyed much of Spafford's real estate investments, a devastating financial blow. Despite this hardship, Spafford remained steadfast in his faith, which would soon be challenged even further.

Tragedy Strikes: The Loss That Inspired the Hymn

In 1873, Spafford planned a family trip to Europe with his wife and four daughters. Due to business obligations, Spafford stayed behind while his family sailed ahead. Tragically, the ship carrying his wife and daughters collided with another vessel and sank. All four of his daughters drowned, though his wife survived. Upon receiving the news, Spafford immediately set sail to reunite with his grieving wife, and it was during this voyage that he wrote the words that would become the hymn, "It Is Well With My Soul."

The emotional depth of the lyrics reflects the profound sorrow and yet unshaken faith that Spafford experienced. The opening lines, "When peace like a river, attendeth my way; When sorrows like sea billows roll," poetically capture the juxtaposition of calm and overwhelming grief.

Horatio Spafford and Philip Bliss: The Collaboration Behind the Melody

While Horatio Spafford wrote the lyrics, the melody many know today was composed by Philip Bliss, a prominent gospel singer and composer of the time. Bliss was deeply moved by Spafford's words and set them to music in 1876. The tune, named "Ville du Havre" after the ship that sank, quickly became popular in churches and hymnals across America.
